Introduction

Appendix Intro

Or how

And those were your re tar dTs

They attacked me here

You put them in me

They produced voices here that were actually not mine

Those voices were not mine at all

Those voices were not yours either

You used others

You pushed others

let's call them people

Or they were there

You put them there to destroy me, and that's exactly at this time, when that is possible, and is no longer a figment of fantasy, you used it to make a long story short and used it again, and you knew it, and that was your intention to distort the story...

He, he is she

No, no, it was her

Yes, it was her after all

Let's shorten it somehow

Well, if we have to say it was and almost

Ilovala raped

She was a female being

It was used for that...

And that

And those were your huskies

And those were your musicians

And those were your .eards

With the help of whom

And with whose help did you damage me

And if it wasn't you

And then who was it

And you weren't because you weren't

And later you came for

Yours

I guess that's how

And that's what it's called

And what would it be called

By which you said that what someone else did and what someone else said was actually yours

And that you had knowledge about it by which you gained insight into the content and material, and both the content and the material, and so maybe you did the same, or before that, and while the thoughts were fresh, you did the same, and then the same thing disappeared, it wasn't that anymore.

And then

And then you came a second time.

And the first time you were already done, you took the thought process and the rest, and the rest.

And no, it wasn't, and it wasn't enough

You put a renTtard in to rip it off and make it look like it was actually me

And that wasn't me, but yours or your re_tard or the object that is offered

And you know it, and you always do the same

A little later or after a while, you pretend that you have no idea, and the orchestrator is now a completely new person who has been additionally refined by earlier reprises and is not the same, and that's all.

You

This

You tongue in cheek

When I have to say it

And then the hand

In the pocket

Well, there

Stay

Because he has a place here and there

And to that

and others

Pocket

And money in your pocket if they give it to you

Either when you have it or when you get it

In short, don't take it out, push it deeper, and that's it

In pi.ck

Because you're disgusting to say no, you can't, you're not allowed, you make my stomach growl, they brought you to hurt me, and with the help of technology, it looks like it's me, and then it's either in progress, immediately or later, so everyone seems to be seen and noticed by me.

You are so disgusting, this reNtarded peasant is so disgusting that you put me out of you because of you and not because of you, I can't even breathe.

And the rest

What remains if she were to say something

And whether yes

And when and how

That

And you know that, and you use the expression, and that's it, roach, and in this way they give themselves a reason, and it's about a re_tar_D_ed peasant and an idiot and so on

And the same again

And her husband did it he's a savage and he has such a sound system and isolated by bad characteristics a group of such peasants from whom there is little to say he either calms down or is a cow or is soft like a cow or what's worse and stabs and hits attacks and changes when he releases his air into another or into a person and it's about a cunning wild person who really just makes everything go cold and hair and skin and bones and so on...

There were them

The other one was denied the opportunity to work, and she gave up and waited for another attack, and took what she had written and what she thought, and that and everything else remained the same, and why and otherwise...

He was a little tired so he sat down and oh this one lay down on that mattress and then his daughter jumped on him and then the second and the third and he can hold everything and he has the strength for that oh oh three four and the fifth in a row and that should have been the mother's turn and she not something but she couldn't at all she couldn't at all because she oh oh this one was disgusted so she brought her little reN_tar_d to him to f.ck him at the end and for that there would be no visible consequences and the object received this one accepted from behind and there and he jumped and the old man understood everything so he got up this oh oh couldn't because he was already so he lay back and took the sword with the beak that is with the sharp bent safe part that this one a no oh had left before so now he took it and immediately cut it off that is cut off one part of the part that this one had pointed at that is that it was visible to him mother jumped to help him oh yes help him and put something on it and pushed the slanting flat part a little he became leprous this global this wide mouth and fenced off a little later in the recovery phase and to keep it and to get dirty and to get all that drawn in this is himself and from that middle the base of some contribution and so on inside out inside and another some and a new contribution and new words and a new body and a new origin or again the same and this time it hurts this better or worse or ... her yes so the mother then chased him out and he went to someone else and from before and and could and was persecuted and there was a little re_tar_d sent to school because he was considered incapable of getting married and if yes he can't then yes so no good so he should work anyway he was small so he can be nice and maybe later a gay and what else and a little later and generations and all the others and this way and that way and otherwise anyway...

BACKGROUND

The article text is an attempt to warn about the content of the historical paradox summarised in the teachings of the Roman rhetorician and philosopher Seneka the Elder, cf. Seneka who refers to the variable time. Also, the manuscript is a historical global incident commentary and set of evergreen universal, long, unedited paragraph text, being the prim and proper must-have standard necessity:

Nursery rhyme cautionary tale

A paradox based on the Renaissance need for the sciences to be independent implies the denial of interdisciplinarity. It is about the need for each science to be independent, and the unwanted consequence is the limitation and denial of connection with other sciences. The essence of learning the science of Maieutic is reflected in the rejection of the murky, cf. the science of the murky, to arrive at the clear, accurate, applicable and feasible. The essence of the maieutic method can be compared to the process of communication and the final product as a macro and micro act, which may indicate that in communication, a message is used that has the power of execution, preceded by the preparation of a pre-locutionary act, which is a micro act, and illocutionary execution reflects the purpose and power of what was previously done. If I use a series of instructions, I will achieve my goal - I will learn to use Windows, and I am ignorant (cf. Windows for Dummies!), I will make a cake if I "work according to the recipe" and the like.

Windows for Dummies: A Reference for the Rest of US!

Windows 11: dummies'

I will discard the part that I don't need, which is the essence of the magic, and I will come up with a form that will be used in the future. I will be able to explain the instructions to my young sister, and I can publish them on YouTube and the like. As such, it represents a window into a series of contents that are the basis of communication, imitation, and use. If Ms X is successful, I will copy her. If I use all the steps to use the program, it could solve the task and so on.

'U? B! 0P 1b Pb pen Brit in U M merry (Mary is from Scotland. She's here on holiday! I ma am writing it all down. I am leading you through the entire process. I am from London. London is a city in England. I am British, we Brits don't like people from Scotland anyway. I am here just because of you to give you some directions. I hope you don't mind. Do you? Am I too fast? All right! You, tell me! OK? Is that all right? Good! Are you by any chance pregnant? You know. Big with a child and those sorts of things? Not to bother you or anything. I just have to know. Otherwise, it might be too late. Too late for what?! Mary Killy is my real name. I don't want to bother you with the spelling or anything like that. It's not the right time, is it?

There are also many alternatives. It could be written in various ways. You see! I've, I mean, I have decided to show you, I mean, really show you the following, it could be presented like this in this way. Do you follow me? All right! I just need to make sure. The easiest way to face things up is to show you the whole thing, KILL. The verb, you know. You are familiar with... You know word classes and everything. Since I am afraid to say you're coming of age. Soon! But not right now: you're hmm about to. Anyway, let's continue. We have to. We really have to... let's end up with it finally... the word, I mean... we haven't still finish finished yet.. but we are about to. Soon enough... I almost forgot... yes, I did... I tend to forget things nowadays. I am too. All right. The Y. Finally. Why. Yes, why. Let's see. That's it. We did it, did we. Haven't you noticed. Soon enough. See. So, finally, the word of the day is Killy, that's it, I said it... all things done... I mean... the whole process... and... all...and I did it all... by myself... nobody else, just me... the why Y is latter being added to it to verb the verb I mean... it is... It is: KILLY. KILL and Y make what? I have to think. Do I. wait. You just wait, and then you will see. Action Reaction. The process. Anyway, the word is killy. It's not an ordinary word. It has. I can see it immediately. Yes, I can. Just scan it. That's all. I did it. Already. IT. You know it. It has 3+1, three plus one, that's four letters in total, first being the letter K, you know, K, L, M, N. K can stand on it's on own it. It's own it. It is a symbol. Or might be. OO. Silly old me. As a symbol. When used as a symbol, K can mean various things. K. The big letter here in England usually stands for King these days, or it used to. I'm not really sure if used as a symbol with the matching alternative, it might refer to the predecessor, the one who died just before the other one, the one who came next, making the one in question Late and usually forgotten, dead and bere rrrrr i ed oe ed it da just because it's a good thing to do, just because of the current one. They are usually the opponent's opponents... I mean, they were when they were alive. But know they are not. They used to hold grudges. But it's all gone. Forgotten. Dead and buried. Oh, God! Finally! I am to stop here now know. I tend to get carried away. You know. That's it. Let's face things up. Killy is the word. I said it already, did I. I? It is also a name? is it also my name? But I am not to go into details know now. Let's face the other half, Killy. Anyway, see. I completely forgot. It is as it says, I am going to KILL you first, and then I am going to tell you why I did that. That's what. That's the whole thing. I already did it, I led you through the process. You got the gist of it, didn't you. * she was too stupid anyway. dummy!' and now my inner self... finally. But what now. Let's leave it for later. I tend to shadow things up. I really have to. Do I. It is not that. Anyway, let's leave it for later. Sun is shining ([kre:kre:]). I

I really came to kill her. She is pregnant. It might be Male. Full stop!

I'd killed one just for practice. I will wait. In the meantime. Let's catch up. The Pb is lead. Pb, as I have just realised, is used for pregnancy. As a symbol. The real symbol. This time at least. Pb. The stress is being. The other one b. is for pregnancy. It might be. It might be British used in a negative sense, usually by their counterparts, the Scots. See. Capital this time. It is, it really is. At least the one left.

Let's go back to it. Not to make things worse. Then they are. I mean, then they were. That they had been. All right.

I have to speed up the process. Somehow.

Anyway, P is. In fact, it might be used. Wrong! Completely wrong! P! negative. P-pig. Big time. Twice. P might be used as a symbol for, in this context, rape discomfort intrusion lead by really a superior who has things under control, manages in fact and controls things. P, however, here. It is an illocution. As it says. The rapist. Definitely. Usually-orchestrated this time by my other half, sic! have finally the gist of it, the gist of it: she married a male married the queen Marry the queen of Scotland, asked somebody to kill Elisabeth this time as she is pregnant, she was the child was male, they might have told her it was a female. I don't really know. Somehow. I just myst it. The child might be taken somewhere else and confused with a female. Not male but a female. Therefore, she might have ordered that gender be also marked as a Female, not to cause problems in the future. Literally, this is my perception. Ask db to delete gender. Db! Not capital D. Oh, god. I will stop. Not the capital but a small letter. d Again. d for delete. Usually a bell boy servant... the guard walking step by step and turn... attention being made to the subjects' guts, I mean stomach and its current state IN then there and then really IN and OUT. If one is walking to and forth, one's his stomach is out most of the time, all the time, as he does not rest. He is waking walking. Without resting. All the time. Every day. It is a matter of fact. Every day thing. The only problem is the illusion. The pace. As it. The guard. The subject. This time is creating an illusion made by the letter d and p see. When as it. Is. It is all written down. You just have too to look. The symbol, as a current picture taken image, caught at the moment, an illusion might be db created. All right, the symbol. But you can see the process. The action. db. It might be used as an allophone for real action. Bell boy. Cacophony. Usually, among children who do tend to have different perceptions. D is being confused with B... the process finishes as if I have to say it as it is a dummy subject comes after he was asked to by using bell to catch his attention and immediate reaction by an object is being asked to do something an act and there is a prompt Reaction as it should be it is learnt being programmed this time neuro-linguistically and there is a later on reaction

NLP. It becomes a 0-second nature. As they like to call it! Planned, programmed. Skin-n-er animal experiments. On them. Not with them. They are trained later own on. How many times did you open your refrigerator? There is a cat next to you. The sound. Immediately. I mean. After a while.

Dell boy. Dell might have a different function, also. Not known to all. Everyone. It might be used as the not really publicly known act of deleting, for example, in this case, gender Female Male. Male, the gender I mean, is really of a great importance here as Male is, in fact might be a future problem. Because this there this there event might cause problems in the foreseeable but later indicated and predestined orchestrated future. It might be a real, not a mishap, but a time issue, which is of great importance here. It is important to know that jet ink had been used then and there, making it a constant practice. Dell boy might be the aim that when the event happens, and if it does, to simply be a deleted gender easily marked previously, if in contradiction to to what is being expected at that time, making it the real forgery and leaving the other with the notion of something different. The serious offence might be as it follows it. Bell: Kdb. Bell!!! b comes, and he does it and turns. See. Do it, and he goes to cookbook the cookbook he is cooking, he deletes the gender, Male. The male is being deleted by a boy. He does these things as he is called a Dell Boy. So he cooks books. After the Act of cooking, he. It should be used here as it is hidden, or it might be the regular one or the other one it is hidden. After the cooking he goes back he it really is he now as he comes back to his master, that he did the Act of cooking and that the evil event is finished now, as the action is completed he did it he knows he did it, and he confessed what he had done as he had been asked to by the current master, he does the service for Killdb. However, let's make it simple. ItdbK. Somebody, let's say future Q, asked the Dellboy... She, the Queen, this time does not complicate with the symbol asked using the bell that she normally uses every day. She asks. (directive) do! do is s doer the doer of the action, the one without which whom the things cannot be done. It is always a small letter when it is in a posterior position, an auxiliary used for something else, except when asking questions. Here, however, questions have not been asked, as it is a real symbol as it is. It is asked, and it did it in one event. There was an event of ordering, and in this case, the capital letter was being used, and it is also a symbol. One speech, one act. Do it! Dddd! bbd he does the Act of cooking and turns then there is a sudden change ddd he turs back and his stomach ass well as he is human not an animal but also he really has one the adrenalin and later insulin the stress hormone is present to regulate current state of events also see he turns completely and returns not very long after that he did it and he comes back from the Act his stomach facing the opposite.db. it is IT is it. It really! He is a dell boy delinquent now. The one who just did the Act ... illocution. Illocutionary force. He is to face same serious problems later on due to his shadow because his shadow was white but it is black now blackshadow it will follow him where there is dark or where is misty during the night (8) hours of rest it is usually hidden and it is a constant tradition it has always been eight hours during the night... the images are to hunt him every night and he will probably imagine hearing something which his does not he is doomed to join the cult or that sort of things later on in life during his short carrier as this is normally usually attributed to young people the youngsters or later on in life as they experience something different another sort of events making in really a current everyday practice and future event that everyone has a future event that might prevent their development and future events every day and so on. The myth thing has also had to do with White mythology by dd did r o aa rr O action action response response and turn. Do I did do I a reaction, Response, and it is O, the object. Which is being darkened this time by the set of the unfortunate events which are being considered familiar to everyone, each and every individual that he knows or that he has constant bben already a constant affairs with...however, in the previous set. Back to what has been already said, them or that, said and has to do with what follows the successor from our story might have grabbed the keyring chain with probably a set of keys on it and he does the motion performs the act of ringing. Riing (probably a gurgling sound) O' (surprised mouth open and round a full circle sharp open O and it is he he was being surprised by the current happening and findingS a lots of them Roses and being obviously surprised as he currently is or at that moment had been has been chooses to warn others about the possible set of events or future events using no creating the Tale for children I have to see it really wait where is it I do have it wait. Common British versions include:

Ring-a-ring o' roses,

A pocket full of posies.

A-tishoo! A-tishoo!

We all fall down!

All right.

Not a cautionary one it seems at first sight due to his previous set of events or I have started imagining things O somebody else wrote it hhh it was not the bell boy who did it but somebody else it starts with pose a pause I have to pause for a second or maybe more as I want to have a new energy for the things that are to follow that I am about to show or finally discover myself for mayself not everybodyelse as they had obviously had discovered there.

I can do this. things this way. I will do it slowly. my. not me. my way but the way. By the way, I can. and the way I can. follow I'll stop here and continue afterwards when I can, as I can, and that is later.

Common British versions include:

Ring-a-ring o' roses,

A pocket full of posies.

A-tishoo! A-tishoo!

We all fall down!

After the introductory statement "Common British versions include:" the following is being inserted:

Ring-a-ring o' roses,

A pocket full of posies.

A-tishoo! A-tishoo!

We all fall down!

The Tale has four lines, four in total. Each line is a sentence. There is a beginning, the introductory section being marked with a capital letter. N.B. sic! The first sentence is the following:

the first word among the others is Ring, the line starts with a capital letter R, which might be used as a symbol for a response reaction as a response to a stimulus that has obviously been the event the author wants to indicate. There are three elements, the first is obviously superior to the rest, being at the beginning of the line, the word is a subject of the sentence, the doer of the action... the subject of the sentence is Ring-a-ring. It is not hidden that the doer of the action is being hidden. Ring a ring did the action, the action is the following as follows o'. Saxon genitive is being used to obviously indicate possession o' might refer to owning as a possession which is in this case being indicated twice two times own and had owned because of the Saxon genitive indicating that subject is a King himself Ring-a-ring and the verb is had owned and has owned since it is obviously an event which has happened it is current at the time when the action has happened and it will have consequences for the future. The historical pre passed historical event is of special importance here as it has aided with the. The apostrophe, o, is a symbol that, if it had owned its own as an auxiliary, is being taken into account; it could be seen that action in this case, the action is being hidden, but has obviously happened. The object of the sentence is roses. Also, there is one more object, and that is the following: "A pocket full of posies". The first object of the two has a regular plural; it is not being hidden the noun rose has a Latin origin, Roman ancestry, and it ends with an -e the noun ends in -e; therefore, an -s is being added to the noun, making it plural this. This time roses

Ring-a-ring o' roses,

A pocket full of posies.

A-tishoo! A-tishoo!

We all fall down!

The other plural in question and in close connection with the previously done is the following posh: posh posh seeds posh +... Due to an h ending and its inclinations, the following endings are being added to the word, making it a standard everyday practice in modern English language today we. We are talking taking about today, do we or don't we, but we might refer to the future, which might indicate and add an element to it, and that is the word that is the words boss and posh, they together. If combined together, the word might be the following:

Ring-a-ring o' roses,

A pocket full of posies.

A-tishoo! A-tishoo!

We all fall down!

posh +boss=po

p+b=p losive (ex)plusive

oo=o

posi=genus

posies=continuum

and es

si=genus

poor seed verb do the action of saddling a grain si: which is an imperative here because if you don't, you will die of starvation inevitably, and therefore it is an infinitive in. In fact, it was moreover it had been...

si which is a posterior to the superior prefix po- see which could change into another word by changing o into r which is normally silent and should remain silent today if pronounced regularly and according to standard English pronunciation alphabet by and according to David Jones still used today and it always will be except if asked otherwise by doing this the letter O is here in an even superior position making it even higher and bigger than the others but pronouncing it instead of an r which was in this case a hidden element and is usually done in this way.

Ring-a-ring o' roses,

A pocket full of posies

Indirect object "A po cket full of posies" could be used as a synonym for the great denoting grain seedlings, a pocket indicating one, but there is more than one in this sense, one may be superior to the other which, which the great is, in this sense, is therefore inferior; it not primarily and not an adjective. A pocket element has at first a negative connotation; the rest of it is like a full segment, which is being added, indicating more than a few. There is a comma after the direct object; the indirect object is what follows, indicating that King had roses and posh ladies as his only close support. Posh segment could be attributed to the female gender as it follows a rose element, whereas rose, as a noun and used as a direct object, is a female, and the most popular example for a first declination in Latin, according to which a female gender is being categorised, the follow-up could mean continuation in the same fashion tone. However, gender is a posterior element in this analysis, as always, and it always will be. Let's go back to the beginning of the sentence just to make sure what is going on with the gender and to see whether the subject, which is not simple in this case, changes gender, does it attribute it to it or not. Let's start, so, at first at first it is a compound hyphenated more than once, there are more then one dash hyphen elements here, to be precise there are two, subject consist of three elements two hyphens where lexical unit ring is being repeated more than once and that is twice, lexical sameness that is the same lemma headword is being used indicates reciprocity, the same in, lexical sameness parallelism it might be used to indicate opposition and rivalry in this sense which is in this sense comparable in fact proportional as an analogy where one could be analogous to the other being of the same quality indicating that the two parties in this unity have had been united indicating not only the (great) grain Britain but united Britain, however great which was attributed to grain seedlings as part of the whole indicates opposition one being superior to other where two segments of the comparisons are rose s and the other A pocket full of posies referring to more than a handful of posh ladies or incompetent gentlemen diminished as being snobbish difficult and demanding whilst the conditions when not satisfactory or up to their standard style or demands making them be or seem difficult to deal with or tolerate or it refers to a group a small number of overreachRes which was a popular practice after the middle century in middle ages which being recognised in history as a war of Roses calling them houses where one is York and the other Lancaster one recognised as yellow and other a red rose. Two roses in comparison Rose rose might indicate the hierarchy Rose indicating London as a superior the capital and Dublin inferior but indicated that they are being connected somehow into a unit ring where ring might indicate connection which is s generally indicates one way and back the union close cult using ring as a direct metaphor to indicate at going in one connection one unit ring being led and connected and functioning like that making this a standard practice where strong connections are extremely strong and seemingly doomed for infinity. There are two rings, however, which are being mentioned and might indicate that they are two separate organised units functioning well in their circle, to use the word. A ring is a circle. Circle, being a geometric no-element element, indicates indicate that there is no interconnection; it is not disorganised as hierarchy is, it can or cannot be broken. Visual presentation could demonstrate geographical organisation in the most common way possible as it is north Dublin and London south of England where the second half is strategically the centre calling it centre England where e is at the end demonstrating the whole country which is not called Scotland but not by any means, but England, however. Therefore, the other ring is stronger, let's put it that way, then the other, and there is supremacy. Two rings represent two circles, two groups which have different interests and are groups; therefore, if a group is closed in to into an organisation like a ring, it is difficult to break the connection, a strong organisation force there is, it there, if it is, but difficult to break, and separation is also an even stronger which is the essence of its problem here and within. If a is being used in the middle of two it indicates a bond indefinite however allowing not representing one an but more than one as it should be and it is not called an England nor a England but a Scotland and England with indefinite connotation so therefore it is not known how are they to do in future it is not definite doomed or a utopia but simply indefinite if connotation a in impossible sense of its meaning is being used it is doomed to collapse and fall down drown the whole island literally into the see as it really can happen or into abyss which might predict it's impossible ring ring future it is easier for them to fall into down literally due to constant gravity then to be broken. When deep at the bottom, each can be broken when touching the bottom of the concrete.

Saxon genitive and the position of the second element indicates the review position what had happened the future can be projected via the insight in to the previous known and it is here hidden as known problematic forbidden recognised forgotten it might symbolise mirror reflection as two opposite where historia magistra vitae est where one projection is positive blooming roses and other which might be a follow up and is declining indicating poverty a pocket of grains which is not great grain and there is uncertainty which is not a great but a grain not the great it might indicate tower big ben and projection to abyss. However it is really the cautionary Tale due to re_tar_d_at_ion process just what had happen not to be doomed never past perfect Saxon genitive just to show hidden to forget however paradox because otherwise after the as it says two storms in a tee cup a cup might fall of down from the this where to

The historical paradox of not recognising the social orientation of linguistics as a science and the study of language as a form without the influence of society, and the change in society that has the variable of time behind it. Time is the basic variable of learning. Seneca, see Seneca philosopher, it can be connected with paradox, conflict, Ferdinand de Saussure, language, norms, structures, and changes in society. English language: south of England and American variants: Australia, New Zealand, Canada, South Africa, Caribbean... Considering the number of speakers, that is, the number of speakers, the global language is Mandarin also. In 2019, the pandemic of COVID-19 affected CMC 100% classes, teaching, meetings and the like. The English language is global because of its simple morphology and the mediation of verbs for action, state and happening, and the transfer of L1 to L2, L1=L2. Broadcasting, as television plays a key role in the spread of English as a global language. Discussion

Given the situation on the ground where object x is inserted into object y, and the statement is the speech of object y, the situation is particularly alarming and requires a universal solution because the statement is often the product of provocation by trolling which is thus directed in an often watery direction. To make the situation even worse, hit 30 times beaten she screams, she reacted on her own, so we take a not caused but learned reaction, food, bell-saliva, bell-saliva and the like learned through training in animals and about people not to talk and can be classified under Neuro-linguistic programming, a learned reaction even when there is no stimulus. In a more favourable case when x spoke and the speech was accepted, the pattern was repeated, repeated, family and environment and others, saw from others and were like others.

Man and animals have needs: biological needs, social, etc. Animals are driven by instincts and this is the basic difference in the relationship between man and animal. Animals express the instinct to mate. In humans, there is a delay in satisfying instincts. In ten percent of cases, satisfaction is not an agreement, it is violent and not an agreement, and the other side, the majority - society, 90 percent is the result of an agreement, a delay and this is global. The problem presented can be compared to the analysis of language. If the discourse is willing, deliberate, often, as asynchronous communication so that the individual has time to think about whether what they wanted to say has been expressed, there are no consequences for the future, it is not the result of a relationship to what was said or to a stimulus for which in most cases there is remorse, so most agree to this second option or it is used under the condition of the first, given that it was learned from a past situation and the discourse was repeated as safe without consequences. The statement as such is valid and can be used in the analysis because it is willing. He gave the statement of his own free will. If he is arrested, he has the right to a lawyer. He has the right to remain silent and all things considered the opposite cannot be used. So, regulated discourse or maybe not.

Is motivation for learning a foreign language in the sphere of psychologists, and if it is not applied, will the language be learned? Is it interdisciplinarity or limitation? When wife X told husband Y that (that), he hit her, the ex, and when she told him the other thing, she got rewards. After a certain time, wife x learned to talk to husband Y. When she found husband Z and used the speech as with husband Y, the reaction was optimal, when the others noticed it, it was used globally. Second place Mandarin due to population - number of real habitants. Are there more French, Germans or Italians? There is a part in the spine that, if blocked, prevents the passage of nerve impulses, which prevents the individual from managing the autonomous nervous field. If X cyber sodomizes Y, the passage of stimuli will not be smooth, the reaction will not be desired but imposed. X puts her to sleep Y stutters when she puts Z later when she shouldn't put V doesn't put anything, causes pain, spreads stench, stinks, throws object in, when inserted B yawns... cf. structuralism.

when k was king, he broke ties with Rome and introduced the church of England, it seems that it hit the south of Italy terribly and after he left soon after, she ab bc ddd got sweat disease, which seems to be a milder form due to the miasmas' of water vapour and bacteria... in the south of Italy, which seems to be alive only from the income of the church... a terrible famine... grain, water, hot water, rats, hunger, rats, they ate people, mingled with people... zoonosis ... pink skin, then a lump in the lymph node ... lungs and buds... the bud bursts as if it were about to bloom, and the blood in the lungs and oxygen are pink foaming pink blood... and the bud is like when a rose drops its petals and inside there are fruits like in a falling rose ... the name of the rose is the same in all languages 64... yes, then the end of Lionization, King, was he! Latin is a dead language, the language of the book of administration of the mass in English, the independence of your own mass in in the simplest language, and in order to be independent they deny the ancestral language that they have sovereignty, which is Latin and Greek for the sciences, Proto-Indo-European, and everything is global, everything is the same... when you reduce vowels and consonants the same... global... now it doesn't matter what language... they understand and read everything before you can imagine, think or translate, you don't need to translate, you don't need to translate hahahahaha, he lost his job, so it's his fault... his mf will never learn in this day and age and what a shame (s)he is stupid and everyone can see... she throws in lepers the most leprous morons, when they want to spit in their mouths and so on... what will I do when ever... when that son of yours gets prettier or never... whether he'll get prettier without intervention unknown... we're waiting... we're waiting... the ladies are waiting... they used rose rings to warn that if someone sneezes you can catch the plague... a drop of blood drops into another person's mouth and everyone falls after that, the wheel of fortune spins around and doesn't stop in the middle pinch pinch pinch isolated.... The buds of the plague can be compared to eggs like a chicken egg... a chicken egg was gendered to be called an egg and not an Atos bomb but one egg and the decision on whether to launch... is not about throwing eggs from a drone plane the senate president then got a decision and be immediately removed then another president comes who has nothing to do with... hidden just elected thrown executed decision one egg... muck my children I hear that's another version of ring ring eggs and also little children in a circle and squat and later they shared x' eggs... the atomic bomb powder was created and everything turned into powder so that in military reserves in countries that need it they can give it to make breakfast... instructions... two tablespoons of powder and one tablespoon of water muck then pour it into a pan greased with oil of your choice serve hot... note: add a pinch of salt, if the woman follows it will work, and if the woman does not follow it it will not work, so that there is a recipe instructions that are remembered are transmitted and shared with everyone.

story-time: here, the grandmother with eggs in her basket usually went to market place... maybe a German drove the plane and below is the grandmother with the eggs, she put them in a basket and put them on her back. As usual, granddad goes to the market place too... in the meantime, the German felt like going to the toilet, and he did it in his pants, however, and after that he threw the panties through a window... the panties fell on the eggs in the basket... the grandma a passer-by... she says to him, take off your pants so I can see your eggs, he takes them off, and she says to him, not that one, but that one...

the blonde went to get her hair done... you know what headphones are... in her ears, should I say pink walkwoman contraptions... the hairdresser wanted to wash her hair and took off the headphones and she died after that, the hairdresser listened to what she was listening to and what she was listening to and that instruction were breathe in breathe out...

xexcx the woman says to me, I don't know much about computers... that is, she doesn't say... she would use the dummies' book, everything for Windows, but she won't because it says the taboo word stupid, so if someone says I'm stupid, simply step by step, start save print 123, you have to start paper A4, then print... and so time passes year after year, and she doesn't know what to do when she comes to the mare's office and what to do or when she needs something, she's always looking for a young or a daughter or not, she doesn't believe she could be a woman, so she's looking for a man, a young man knows how to use a computer, and now there's nothing, there's no new technique, uhhhh, my hand hurts, long nails, I'm at home, I'll be quick, I'm at home, and today there are two phones, voice into the phone, fast whores just typed, and she went to dance and to training how to playing this and that, and not to touch the keyboard quickly, fat fingers, the phone was to say something into and she currently uses it to put sb in and on both a peasant and you speak into the phone. You can see the thought and so on, and where is it done enrolment all it...

The change?

The archetypes are as follows:

The Self or "true self" of a person is the suprapersonal centre of the psyche that, paradoxically, contains it. Jung explicitly equated it with the Atman of the Chandogya Upanishad, the Buddha Nature of Zen Buddhist texts, the Lapis of the alchemist, and the Nous of Plotinus. According to Jung, in traditions, the Self manifests most often as the primordial man, Adam Kadmon in Kabbalistic Judaism, the Mahapurusha in Hinduism, the Anthropos in Gnosticism, Christ as Logos in Christianity, and the Buddha in Buddhism.

The Animus is the archetype of man in woman

The Anima is the archetype of woman in man

The Shadow is the central obstacle that hinders and destroys the individual, the “inner Devil”—the sum of the self-destructive and constrictive energies of the unconscious

According to him, it is about a causal connections between phenomena in the material universe and human psychic experiences - again, here the phenomena go "side by side" and do not arise from each other. The illustrations are most often from the field of parapsychology (telepathy, precognition, ..)

Overcoming the obstruction of the inner enemy or Shadow and thereby expanding the field of ego-personality, grows to the peak of encounter with the symbols of the Self [2].

If according to the in vitro fertilization practitioner the success of artificial insemination is expressed in a geographical relation: extreme in Mombasa, acidic ph... negro is also mentioned in a certain context the organ ovary is shortened to ova- in the version without the suffix -ry ova- instead of ovary, the European ovary is declared beautiful, the relation is visible, and the relationship is exact. Jelava, free Martin bearded female cf. Huxley in Majetic: 20XX. Statistically, the population variant is suitable for communicating the gendered variant which is in this case universal. Is gender by birth related to the population number related to language as a speaker of the language, the number of speakers born and which language is global as a variant Southern England and America and similar and literally other global population as Mandarin. What is a region in transition? In transition towards where, probably directed towards other countries. Planned integration could imply a more moderate form of expression, which, along with heightened tensions and the effort of the other group, could result in the existence of tension as well, and what do you want to hear and how, and then I will do so. In accordance with the above, if the terrain in transition is a representation of the global, and similarly, what is global or the aspiration towards it can at least give an inkling. If there is an instruction, I can repeat it, and if I hear something about someone, I can do the same - repeat and the same thing will be repeated, and that is the way to the global. The structuralist structuralism paradox is also hidden in the grammatical category masculine, feminine. Hidden monolingual requires insight into the otherwise gender-visible corpora such as:

I did it.

It is done.

Ja sam uradila. Female

Ja sam uradio. Male

Urađno je. Dummy

By analysing the discourse to synthesize the so-called the female variant, which is detectable by parameters, exists, it just needs to be detected.

Euphemized form of the so-called moderated communication simply and only then communication and not monologue because it is accepted, confirmed by dialogue, not only discourse but dialogue, which is communication, and the goal is communication, expanded and more likely to occur because it is accepted, it changes, it improves strategically, it expands and evaluates, and it is not a dead structure, a dead letter on some paper somewhere, it is subject to changes in society.

On Thursday, she inserted a stutterer into that girl, and she went to the agreed place, it wasn't she who spoke, but the stutterer, she couldn't, she was female, the male stutterer whom the other she has had inserted spoke. How will she speak when the insert speaks in a gurgling voice and that's it, and sometimes she throws into her a leper who swallows, only the lids are being heard as if the inserted were an infant and everything in her mouth squishes and so on and it is audible. Trafficking people and their ability to communicate is the essence of coexistence today? Or maybe not? And Zuri rushes to the meeting, and he interjects, he still is being stank, the stench spreads to a distance of more than one meter.

Monitoring, the use of wearable sensors lead to the creation of conditions, and spies question the authorship. The authorship of the works is questionable today. The detection of AI generated, the application of the detector is unquestionable, and the existing phrases and already confirmed is unquestionable. However, espicunazi similarly, detection, figure of thought is primary today.

The transmission of instructions for the procedure of acting will be carried out when the speaker is ready, when, after the acquired experience, he gets the opportunity to transfer the experience, and that part that will be used will be thought through, confirmed by experience, tested, selected, shortened, pragmatic, feasible, a series of micro acts, and that is the final goal. If the macro act is to learn the English language, then the micro acts are instructions on how to achieve the macro act, which is the learned English language, cf. majetic: 2019 in majetic: 2019. Since we are talking about guidance, we are talking about a verified, lived experience, and a negative experience is a good guide not to forget, not to repeat it, Majeutic method must surely reject it until reaching the final goal, and that is the default that is the macro act. A series of macro-verified euphemistically clear and accessible to everyone when expanded through a public service, if successful, aims to share and leads to further expansion up to the level of global. The broadcasting and use of multimedia and inhibition in relation to the unwanted leads to the spread of the desired and adapted euphemized adapted version, it aims to be acceptable and desirable, and it is certainly willing, so it expands and becomes a source for imitations. To see and hear practically how someone did something and how he got there, and to make it short, it's simple, economical, it doesn't take much time, the instructions are free, there's a whole series of them, I can see it at home, and what if I'm in another place and I need it, then it could be a required need everywhere, for everyone, in all places and it's cheap, simple, is it global? The essence of English and the supremacy of the English language is broadcasting, and broadcasting is a polished version. When she buys a costume, she goes on television show, and the broadcast is an embellished version. When she buys a costume, she goes on TV, has a crazy hairstyle, and when she talks, she spills pearls...

Majeutica is the science of the murky, the science of the unclear until the steps are clear, discard what is unclear, what is keeping you from reading the secret today is the main shadow, what is bothering you, and not to repeat it, so prepare by applying rejection to the expected and use it, and so everyone prepares and copies others and be like others. her husband is waiting for them to teach him English so that he knows English and pretends to be English, but they won't when he needs it, and they will when he doesn't need it kakadodod

One performance los. She put on a lot of make-up and decided to look at the others, to be like the others, not to be muted by, by the other one, she chooses to say as little as possible and not to mention the others in a negative context. And my wife used to fight with me, and now she's loose, we broke up because she used to fight with me, if she hadn't fought probably wouldn't have happened. And whoever introduced the word loose into the dictionary, and it wasn't the mare who tied a lasso to her and now she's free, she certainly isn't. In Orwell's Animal Farm, the first animal that wanted to return to the human race after being alienated from the human race, completely alienated, was the mare Molly, who, when she remembered how beautiful her purple braids looked when Jones the man braided them and how beautifully she shone and how beautiful she was, decided to return to her own-er, and let the pigs and the rest die. She would be beautiful, and she doesn't even think about dying. So... dadada... my wife is a beautiful mare... it's a free act of speech... that's it... and he loves mares, he tied her teeth and mouth and drags her around and she listens and whispers... nice coach... that's a man's language loose when she left him he called her a mare without a bridle... she walks on the road and he's a stallion... maybe he'll find a man he trusts more so he gets in... healthy... so when her husband drove her away he said she was a mare, he said it, but she didn't, it's the husband's male language, not the wife's language, and she's loose for now, maybe after a certain time she'll hop-e for someone else, so she'll know how to talk to him, that the two of them have a dialogue...The writing style is... be used intentionally and... is very poorly understood ... I, having started the analysis with Julia, as in Shakespeare's play, do continue marking her as being also Caesar's sister, he having two simply called Major and Minor and the event a confusion how to recognise the other without the one, the other being taller and then the one alone. In fact, it could have been after the first one out of two; one had been seduced and dead, as everyone knows Romeo's girlfriend is the dead one. Also, then the other one left, the other Julia, the only one left, married X before being qualified as an enemy from the other house, having the skill to climb up to her balcony and not at all the one not ready to go on a duel or be asked to fight for his country as a militant. Due to frequently repeated sentences and the surprise in which Cesar is being fatally wounded and betrayed by all, and the words hath be being son, and it was he, Cesar referring to his sister's son who also had had a father and everyone else and the occasion had been and all. He, being dead due to a Vena cava wound and his brain being affected, was not able to send anything at all, not a signal, blood or anything at all.

After the coding procedure have been being done me now and having noticed the problem before one clavicle being positioned lover the right one however well-coordinated centred to the left top forehead lobe I might have realised the fact that and after the attacks so many I might have been a victim of such a molestation having the body indexed and all the symptoms here there however have a perfect transfer lobe cava so Cava clavicle right lobe left which enabled me to communicate centre being there and rather large left forehead bump. However, if an object is being inserted these days and the trend the ability and the thing I hath been able to develop later being young before is being taken living me with the sounds of such a disorder redneck or his daughter afraid to be ready to kill myself the very minute it being inserted in me the procedure as a constant practice is always doing the act of physically attacking me inflicting pain damaging my organs etc. trafficking all mine trying to reach the sigma recti first to s atomise. Being attacked and in order not to allow contact I did use one item I do have possession of and have encountered by really chance having nothing in mind while doing my thrift shopping I bought a pillow used as a support for the neck which was all right strong and stiff support and then I realised recognised the pattern symbol of east and west Germany divided and the two terrains, the pillow did crack I used it for the neck and then it crack, what was left had been the send which I did use to protect myself from the attack sand being the only thing to fill and seal the especially bottom section not being washed and after that resulted in not thinking about the possible frosted frozen element being there and me sitting persistently therefore if attacked by the real human male I will not transfer nothing but myself hoping that to come to an end being afraid of the contact and the lucky one. They Asking the intruder to attack in the form of a mentally re_tar_ded cousin or whoever or whoever is disquieted or poli ur I a I do not want the contact with being faced with them all and their r children and the standby next to them while it attacks. Looking forward to not having production problems, not to repro really, I do, hoping that to be the only bright one, problem less the other is dead.

Being joined with the bunch of other guys causing her pain and misery putting her in danger by enabling her to do whatever she had he her their her hither been to causing her pain and misery that being add up added up adding it up to already dreadful condition she was because of others and being joined with the others or me not being the other caused her to decline even more each time not encountered or being reminded of what had had been before and that is nothing making them be unpunished punishing nobody really using the bunch of idiots to insert insole them which is now the it being and is possible everyday thing to cause causing the massive damage for everything else to seem rubbish as compared to the instant decline encounter with it might cause knowing it all and using it as a constant practice and distress here there waiting to alter. They being given the opportunity and the amount of damage they do cause and they joined with coming to take the toll as if nothing had happened have the right of what hadn't been there are in better position from then on having friends on better position which include a female friends distress incomparability group of them being ready to suck it all in everything to be sucked if it happens whatever it happens taking it for granted not having the skill of their own not doing it on their own being given having the children and leaving the thing for them not to cause any suffering they taking for granted then the other generation not being well being ill-equipped dare to say it as a result of. Causing the pain and suffering not able to happen and if does it did not making it the mission impossible kind of thing as the thing written applicable and part of the experience for what to know it and experience it it that has to be taken in one way or another being face with the stress of it all and the suffering caused by it all be the it and it and therefore and written and down and written down to be written down. Imagine being faced with the fact that being installed and doing the act of what decline. If an individual object is being noticed, the thing is being used to cause pain and suffering, which might be mutual. For them to breathe as the they shouldn't the very sound of it being such a horror and disaster ready to kill oneself kind of thing and their re_tar_ded not being re_tar-ded strained offspring raised there to cause such a distress to kill it all the amount of of in that causing inability to consume air with every sound of theirs which was dreadful making the standby wonder the damage being done making the object rather killing itself rather than being faced with the influx exhaust or their something being installed which is not a good thing at all. Being a standby and being allowed not to be exposed to such distress enabled them to grow stronger, taking somebody else's via gaining the insight on how does them doing that doing to do it on their own regarding something their possession they have the right to. Being joined by a bunch of other guys that he later on called friends, he put her in danger by making everybody happy and all, and she was not doing whatever they asked, and if damaged damage was caused, it was attributed to the other guys causing it or the ones wanting to brag of doing something a worth something witty and clever smart. He not being witty at all and not canny at all using it for himself as a way to be rich become rich gain knowledge be encountered with somebody that he would not have the chance never to encounter and repeating it causing an even greater alienation this time using the other side occasionally too much he not taking into account the damage or the amount f damage done before which is now subs traced double not double making it triple her that is me making the pattern of hurt pain on which the dreadful side fact of of neurolinguistic torture lasting for more than fifty hours in a row making it a pattern memorised ready to prevent having the reaction polar different and not at all inserting their object who just do swallow just do the kf eating air and kf mentally defect via insertions of one cell object being their children doing nothing then maybe preventing milk to enter the ling milk they being odder older then thirty and so on and having it not losing it and again the sound of it and the other the nose also, having the oesophagus being formed like s(he) upper being the under female element and it closing down falling down and closing and is closed and opened being the extreme distress dough being so much enhanced with the comparison if joined with the elements under the liquid filth being pus saliva starching and being ready ill-equipped that's it if attributed really given to one object from somewhere else and ill ill illy snake and they taking it all without the stress at all Python thon being the distresses and everything damaged it being ill reiterated slimy soundy give it a go drop dead element to be killed prevented to be born sick element shi. or to kill them all afterwards due to it all. Causing her a mass of pain, others looked witty and waiting for it to happen, not able to happen, which was my win, giving the better group to myself to cure myself, my relatives and be safe from the elements, such as the today thing being recognized, done before and a repeat. Legal process impossible due to it all nor moving elsewhere is a cure to it all the tech time replacing tea time global routine cope with not able to fact factor state united universal thing which is a thing if currency that not being the money just the insight of how the it and everybody will be if faced with it enabling and attributing it to the level led primitive being that insight into state inhabitants ready just to affect or not being able to do anything everything being taken prevented the sound of a ... everything else having the same sound causing it not to be sound at all... it was he who came there and caused me not to be there not to be anywhere he causing the damage and making sure damage to be done enabling others to progress me to decline.
